1852	Oct 11	Letter	from Llandovery, Carriers, I have received a letter with permit for the cask of brandy, I have made four applications for it at Mr More, the Warehouse, Brecon but monies our carrier had no clue of it, I think rather a hard case that Mr Meredith or any other carrier should detain any goods in their warehouse for such a long time as this. I have bought some brandy of another dealier owing to this but you had better write to Mr Meredith and tell him to deed me the brandy as soon as possible.	Edward Davies,

1853	May 19	Letter	Dublin; I have the pleasure of inform you of the safe arrival of the [Claris] the Bark is of better quality than the last received from you and I hope to obtain a better price for it. I have again to complain of the manner in which [iron] has been intermingled with the Bark in the storage of this cargo. It is not objectionable to have iron in the bottom of the vessel under the Bark but buyers object to purchase out of any cargo which iron is [sniyed] with Bark as in the Claris. Our tanners alledge that small particles of iron become [sniyed] with the Bark and stain their leather. I think it my duty to point this out to you as you may not be aware of the fact. We have had a considerable improvement in the state of the weather within the last few days and hope it is equally fine with you and that the Bark Harvest is progressing favourably of which I should be glad to hear.
